

Please note that the order of service is subject to change at the leading of the (S)pirit ▲ Means you are invited to stand in spirit or body.

Prelude	“Down to the River to Pray” attributed to George H. Allan in the Slave Songbook of 1867	Michael Haynes
Greetings + Announcements		Rev. Alex
Welcome		Joyce Sanders
Story for All Ages	“A Little Kindness Today”	Rev. Alex
Recessional Song	“Go Now in Peace” STLT (gray) #413
Chalice Lighting +Centering	“Watching the Light Shift” by Lindsay Rockwell	Rev. Alex
	Zero sum of sound when sun arrives in pleated seams. The clean of it unbuckling thought. Centripetal. Idea as morula. Sleek slippery embryo. Not yet pulsing. As it is radiant. As when edge dissolves the center glows. Watching light shift— body house of breath & eyes see how ache lets go its latch watching light. Rod & cone unprison loving shadow too. And mind mines its own root— knowing root is gate & latch laid bare. Geometry of thought as oar.
▲ Opening Hymn	“I Am the Light of My Soul” composed and played by Michael Haynes	Michael Haynes

Joys + Sorrows + Gratitudes

Rev. Alex

Pastoral Song

“Silent Prayer”
composed and played by Michael Haynes

Michael Haynes

Homily

“Be...Still...Know...Here the Silence”

Rev. Alex

Offering

Offertory

“The Blessing”
composed and played by Michael Haynes

Michael Haynes

▲ Closing Hymn

“I’ve Got Peace Like a River”
STLT (gray) #100

Michael Haynes

▲ Commission + Benediction

“Says the Body and Soul”
by Alison Granucci

Rev. Alex

I. Says the Soul as you watch through glass the leaf's shadow dapple & weave the sun—you do not doubt the breeze exists — and so I am—and so—I was and ever shall be—the breath—before the word is even thought

II. Says the Body when the wind blows the ground barren through the day and the night, there shall come an hour when the last drop dries in the reservoir leaving me in the world where only one thing matters: the dry depth of my useless thoughts and how to learn to drink from the emptiness of the thoughts themselves

Chalice Extinguishing

Please join us in our words to extinguish the chalice:

As we go forth, may we carry the flame of Love, and Peace with Justice, until we meet again, Blessed be.