“Remember”

Milo Florence

by Joy Haro

Remember the sky that you were born under, know each of the star's stories.

Remember the moon, know who she is. Remember the sun's birth at dawn, that is the strongest point of time. Remember sundown and the giving away to night.

Remember your birth, how your mother struggled to give you form and breath.

You are evidence of her life, and her mother's, and hers. Remember your father. He is your life, also.

Remember the earth whose skin you are: red earth, black earth, yellow earth, white earth brown earth, we are earth. Remember the plants, trees, animal life who all have their tribes, their families, their histories, too. Talk to them, listen to them. They are alive poems.

Remember the wind. Remember her voice. She knows the origin of this universe.

Remember you are all people and all people are you.

Remember you are this universe and this universe is you.

Remember all is in motion, is growing, is you. Remember language comes from this.

Remember the dance language is, that life is. Remember.

Welcome

“Weavers of One Story”

Congregation

by Leah Ongiri

*Here we are together each facing our different human tasks or maybe the same central one:
to embrace the lessons life delivers to discern and respond as we grow to refuse harm and cherish flourishing. May we know ourselves as vessels of infinite possibility, holders of each other's heartaches and tales of joy alike weavers of one story in which we each have our part*
